SEMI® connects more than 2,000 member companies and more than a quarter-million professionals worldwide to advance the science and business of electronics design and manufacturing. SEMI members are responsible for the innovations in materials, design, equipment, devices, software, and services that enable smarter, faster, more powerful, and more affordable electronic products. Since 1970, SEMI has built connections that have helped our members grow more profitably, create new markets, and address common industry challenges together. SEMI maintains offices in Bangalore, Beijing, Berlin, Brussels, Grenoble, Hsinchu, Moscow, San Jose, Seoul, Shanghai, Singapore, Tokyo, and Washington, D.C.

The Benefits of SEMI Membership

SEMI connects members to opportunities and information that advance sales, speed collaboration, and enable electronics innovation. Through activities, communities, programs, and events, SEMI helps members achieve together what each cannot do alone:

• Access global markets, customers, and investors
• Shape policies and regulations with collective action
• Solve pre-competitive issues through global communities and working groups
• Gain early visibility to inflections in technology markets

Connect to buyers and key decision-makers: SEMI creates opportunities and platforms for members to connect to buyers, partners, investors, policy-makers, and influencers and advance business growth globally.

Influence through participation: SEMI members have exclusive access to special interest groups, committees, and communities that shape policies, advance manufacturing standards, and drive collaboration to advance business interests.

Access support worldwide: With offices and staff in every major microelectronics manufacturing region around the world, SEMI supports member interests worldwide, providing assistance to companies wherever they do business.

Member-only content: SEMI members have complimentary access to online members-only business and technical content, including webinars, presentations, and white papers.

Visibility: SEMI member company profiles are made available through the searchable SEMI online directory.

Preferred pricing: SEMI member companies and their employees get preferred pricing on exhibitor booth fees and services, conference registration, sponsorship, advertising, market data products, and industry standards.

Exhibition Priority Points: Only SEMI members earn priority points for early access to exhibit space selection at SEMI expositions.
Membership Information

Membership classification and dues are based on combined annual sales revenues in these and other advanced technology supply chain areas.

CORPORATE MEMBER
Suppliers of equipment, materials, sub-assemblies, components and industry specific support products, and services to semiconductor, display, MEMS, LED, flexible hybrid electronics and related industries.

ASSOCIATE MEMBER
Companies that design, manufacture, sell, or distribute semiconductor devices, displays, and related microelectronics are in this category. This includes, but is not limited to, integrated device manufacturers (IDMs), foundries, fabless, fab-lite, and IP design houses.

ALLIED MEMBER
Organizations that are not-for-profit research, education, advocacy, or regulatory services, including libraries, consortia, and academic institutions.

AFFILIATE MEMBER
Includes companies that provide products and services to facilitate development of the ecosystem, but are not specific to, or a part of, the manufacturing supply chain. Examples include publishers, freight forwarders, and financial institutions.

* The Corporate Category is the only category that provides leadership opportunities including voting privileges for all Corporate members and potential participation on the SEMI Board of Directors.

 A "start-up" company is defined as one which has been in business for less than three years, is not yet profitable, and is not publicly traded.

For above categories, membership benefits are available to the company, any wholly-owned subsidiaries, and all employees.

FOR MORE INFORMATION on member categories and to apply for SEMI membership, please contact your regional SEMI office or visit www.semi.org/membership.
